Review by Norman M. Goldfarb

"Research Cartoons...and More" is an amusing collection of over 200 irreverent cartoons, comic strips, crossword puzzles, and miscellany about clinical research, with an emphasis on institutional review boards (IRBs).

One of the authors is Erica Heath, president of Independent Review Consulting, a respected IRB that has been reviewing protocols since 1984. The book includes her educational text along with the cartoons. It is easy to imagine kicking off a training session with a cartoon and then using the text as the basis for discussion.
